GOVERNOR APPOINTS COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE H. C. OF L.

In accordance with his announcement made a few days ago to appoint a commission composed of well-known Kentucky men and women to investigate the high cost of living, Gov. Black has issued a proclamation designating the following as members of the commission:

Fred M. Sackett, Hon. W. O. Head and M. B. Kendrick, of Louisville; B. M. Hieatt, of Midway; R. G. Wells, Pineville; W. C. Montgomery, Elizabethtown; Judge W. F. Hall, Harlan; Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, Frankfort; Mrs. Charles P. Weaver, Louisville; Capt. J. Frank Hawn, Barbourville; Abram Mercer, Merwick, and W. G. Duncan, Greenville.

The Commission is to go to work at once to investigate the high cost of the necessities of life in Kentucky, and to make recommendations as to what action, if any, is possible, can be taken to bring about lower prices for food, clothing and shoes. Prosecution in the courts, under the Kentucky anti-trust law, one of the most drastic laws in force in any State in the Union, is one of the possibilities, in case profiteering on the part of business interests can be established. The Governor's proclamation follows:

"Commonwealth of Kentucky
A Proclamation
To the People of Kentucky, Greetings:

"The high cost of living is the really big problem of to-day, and it lies very close to the unrest of the hour. The situation is indeed serious.

"There is no good reason, as I believe, to justify the enormous prices the people are being forced to pay for the necessities of life, such as clothing and foodstuffs.

"I have the impression that there exists combines whose purpose has been, and is, to monopolize the distribution of the essentials which enter into the needs of the people, and I know the people ought to be liberated from all such injustice.

"If there is the unjust profiteer, his manipulations should be thwarted so that the common people may be saved from his wrongs.

"In order that the source and cause of the evil may be located and proper means worked out to remove such evil I have thought it proper to appoint a commission to make thorough investigation into the situation, and to suggest such remedies as such investigation may demand and justify. And I request that all Commonwealth and County Attorneys of the State assist the Commission in the performance of the work at hand.

"THEREFORE, I, JAMES D. BLACK, Governor of Kentucky, hereby appoint the following named Kentuckians to constitute a Commission to investigate the subject of the high cost of living, and to locate and define the cause thereof, and to ascertain whether or not there exist any combines or monopolies controlling or seeking to control the distribution of the necessities of life, and to ascertain and report what they may conclude to be proper remedy for the situation, and for the best interest of the people of Kentucky, to-wit:

"F. M. Sackett, Hon. W. O. Head and M. B. Kendrick, of Louisville, Ky.; B. M. Hieatt, Midway, Ky.; R. G. Wells, Pikeville, Ky.; W. C. Montgomery, Elizabethtown, Ky.; Judge W. F. Hall, Harlan, Ky.; Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, Frankfort, Ky.; Mrs. Charles P. Weaver, Louisville, Ky.; Captain J. Frank Hawn, Barbourville, Ky.; Ab Mercer, Merwick, Ky., and W. G. Duncan, Greenville, Ky.; having, as I do, full faith in their intelligence, patriotism, ability and desire to act with fidelity to the best interests of the whole people of Kentucky. And I request that said named persons meet at such early time as may be practicable for the purpose aforesaid, and, in order that the first meeting may be called, I hereby designate Hon. W. O. Head, chairman, to call such meeting.

"Done at Frankfort, this the fifth day of August, in the year of Our Lord, One Thousand, Nine Hundred and Nineteen, and in the One Hundred and Twenty-seventh year of the Commonwealth.

"By the Governor,
"JAMES D. BLACK."

FINE TOBACCO CROP NOW BEING HOUSED.

One of the finest crops of tobacco grown in the county is that of fifteen acres grown on the Turney farm near Paris, by Mr. Lew Taylor, of Paris. Mr. Taylor has two fine crops under cultivation, but the fifteen-acre tract is the most promising, having matured first. The crop is now being cut and housed.

A sample stalk of the crop grown by Mr. Taylor is displayed in the show window of Stuart & O'Brien. This stalk, taken at random from the crop, measured 6½ feet from root to tip, and is about an average of the entire crop. The exhibit attracts considerable attention from those interested in the tobacco business.

BIG SALE OF DUROC-JERSEY HOGS.

Forty head of fine Duroc-Jersey hogs were sold by W. S. Meng at his "Ridgeway" farm, near North Middletown, yesterday, for an average of $407.56, or a total of $16,302.40. The top price paid was $1,025, for the pick of the herd. A large number sold from $400 to $700. An elegant dinner was served at noon by the "Mothers' Club" of North Middletown, which was pronounced as big a success as was the sale. A large crowd was in attendance.

CONTRACTS SIGNED.

Contracts for the city with R. W. Burks & Co., of Louisville, the firm which will build the new streets in Paris, amounting to $43,000, were signed Wednesday, with bond furnished by a bonding company of Chicago. The work on the streets has already been started. The material to be used in the work is concrete.

THE ICE SITUATION.

There has been but little change in the ice shortage in this city, and our citizens are still experiencing considerable difficulty in getting a sufficient supply of the cooling article. Many have gone to Frankfort and to Carlisle, where they were enabled to get a large quantity of ice from the ice plants and handlers.

Mayor E. B. January received a telegram yesterday from Covington to the effect that a carload of ice was being shipped from that point to this place for the Paris Ice Co., and that it would reach Paris early in the morning. This will be distributed from the car to the Ice Co.'s wagons, from where it will be supplied to consumers, at least temporarily.

In the meantime the work of selling stock in the new plant proposed to be built with home capital goes steadily on, and the determination seems to be to have that new factory regardless of what may turn up in any other direction. Telephone calls from citizens of the county have come in repeatedly to the promoters, asking that blocks of the stock be reserved for them, and displaying the liveliest interest in the success of the venture. As competition is the life of trade so is competition in the ice business in Paris.

LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE SHOPMEN ON STRIKE.

As a result of orders received from the Federated Railroad Shopmen headquarters, fifteen machinists and shopmen employed in the local shops of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, and in the roundhouse at this point, quit work Tuesday morning. The situation is unchanged, with the men still out and evincing no disposition to return. The strike is general and is spreading all over the country.

The purpose of the strike is to enforce demands made last January that the wages of shopmen be increased twenty-five per cent., which up to this time, had not been done. Practically all the shopmen in the local shops are affiliated with the Covington branch of the Railroad Shopmen's Federation, from where orders, it is said, came for the strike. So far the car repairers and other branches of the service have not gone on strike here. As a matter of precaution, extra watchmen have been placed on guard in the South Paris yards. An embargo on livestock and perishable goods shipments has been put into effect locally, the order being received Wednesday night. The local officials do not anticipate any disorder as a result of the strike.

THE SHROPSHIRE REUNION

The fourth annual reunion of the descendants of Jas. Harvey Shropshire and Marie Louise Harcourt was held on Sunday, August 3, at "Valley Forge," the ancestral home, which is now the home of Mrs. W. O. Shropshire, in Bourbon county, near Leesburg. This reunion has become a fixed event in the lives of these descendants and is held each year on the first Sunday in August.

Quite a number attended the morning services at the Leesburg Christian church, in which the elder Shropshire had been an active member and officer during a large portion of his life. Then all met at the old home place, where a dinner was spread upon a table erected on the lawn. This dinner was prepared by a committee of ladies of the connection and was typical of the country dinners of the olden days, consisting of country ham, fried chicken and other delicacies.

Mrs. John L. Waits and Isaac C. Shropshire, both of Harrison county, gave some historical data concerning the early members of the Shropshire family, as well as of some of the other branches of the family.

The officers elected for the ensuing year were James H. Shropshire, of Harrison county, president; Miss Dazey Moore Porter, of Fayette county, secretary; Walter Henderson Shropshire, of Bourbon county, treasurer; Mrs. John L. Waits and Isaac C. Shropshire, of Harrison county, historians.

A FREE DEMONSTRATION.

A representative of the Standard Oil Company, who is an expert in the lubrication of automobiles, will give a free demonstration at our garage on August 14, 15 and 16. You are cordially invited to call and have the expert show you how your car is lubricated. The crank case and oiling system of your car will be thoroughly washed and filled with the correct grade of GARGOYLE MOBIOIL—a grade for each type of motor. We charge you only for the new oil—the service is free.

We want you to experience the benefits of correct lubrication. It will save you each season many dollars in gasoline, reduce your repair bills to a minimum and add to the pleasure of motoring.

Yours truly,
(8-2t) C. S. BALL GARAGE.

FINED AND PARDONED

O. P. Carter, colored janitor at the Paris Grand Opera House was given a hearing in the Police Court before Police Judge Ernest Martin on a charge of throwing a bucket of dirty water on a passing pedestrian. Carter admitted the truth of the charge and was given five days in jail at hard labor. He was released later in the day on the strength of a pardon granted by the pardoning board of the City Council, the document being signed by Councilmen Christman and Arkle.

"MOTORCYCLE COP" TO WATCH SPEED DEMONS.

Determined to break up the practice of making speedways of the streets of Paris by automobile drivers, the Police Committee of the Paris City Council has engaged Mr. Fields, of Lexington, as a special motorcycle policeman to patrol the streets of Paris, and arrest all violators of the automobile ordinances.

Mr. Fields is an expert cyclist and has a machine equipped with a specially designed speedometer. He has previously acted as motorcycle policeman for Fayette county, where his work was very successful in reducing the number of "speed-burners" on the Lexington and Paris pike.

Special attention is called to the fact that the new official has been instructed to assist the local police in reporting all violations of the automobile laws, such as leaving engines running while owner of machine is absent, parking on wrong side of street, backing around corners while turning, unnecessary use of cutouts, etc.

Two Bourbon county men were arrested by Winchester police this week on charges of violating the traffic ordinances. They were Scobee Hardman, of Austerlitz, and Clay Sutherland, of Paris. A fine of $5 and costs was assessed against each.

Seven violators of the speed laws, who were caught by the official Sunday night, were presented in Police Court yesterday, and fined $7.50. Warrants had been issued for the arrest of L. W. Taylor, Harry Jones, B. Houston, John Hash, Mark Hendrick and a man from Cropper, in Shelby county. The warrant for the latter was sent to Shelbyville for service. One man got away from the officer, although the latter's motorcycle is speeded up to forty miles an hour.

The charges against L. W. Taylor was suspended.

OLD GARRET DAVIS HOME SOLD TO MR. MCCLURE.

The James E. Ford home with its twenty-two acres of land lying on Winchester and Vine street, has been purchased from the Ford heirs by Mr. James McClure at a price not given for publication. The property was purchased by Mr. McClure for his son, Lieut. Jas. W. McClure, now stationed in the U. S. Army service in the Hawaiian Islands.

The house a two-story brick, is of historical interest, as having been the home for many years of Hon. Garrett Davis, of Paris, who served in the United States Senate from 1861 to 1873.

OVERCOME BY HEAT

Mrs. Russel Faulkner, of Paris, was overcome by the heat Tuesday while shopping at Frank & Co.'s and fainted. A physician was called, who administered restoratives, and had Mrs. Faulkner taken to her home.

She was reported yesterday as having fully recovered.</

As To Losing Time.

"The wiser we are the more we hate to lose time," says Dante, although in more solemn and stately phrases. And Matthew Arnold remarks somewhere, in substance, that we all maltreat time shockingly; some of us waste all of it, many of us waste most of it, all of us waste some of it.

Well, of course those sages are right. When we stop to think of the precious, golden things that can be done with minutes, it is pitiable to see how we all throw it away, scatter them about, and behind us with careless indifference, as if they were futile grains of sand, given us only to be got rid of as soon and as easily as possible. Yes, there are some who really seem to waste all their time, and they waste it without being aware of it until it is too late, and many are not aware of it even then; for the possibilities of an hour, for good or for evil, are inexhaustible.

Yet there are also people who are so desperately anxious to waste no time at all that they almost recon-use to the squanderers. Those unfortunate are as avaricious with minutes as others are with pennies. They seem to live with the clock, even in their sleep, and to be dissatisfied unless every motion of its hands registers some accomplishment. They want to improve every hour and to make every hour improving, until their mere presence suggests some disagreeable duty or some burden without profit.

The truth is that it is well to know how to waste time, to forget the clock altogether, to relax completely, to live idly, to enjoy pleasant things just because they are pleasant, without a thought of profit. The birds sing for the pure joy of singing, and the butterflies fold their wings and balance deliciously on a flower in the sunshine.

The wise know that a judicious amount of wasting is, in the end, not wasting at all; for those who have learned to relax and to forget at the right moment, to lay aside care and thought and time completely, when they do labor do it with a fresh and mighty power that the weary slaves of time service never know.

To lose time profitably is an exquisite art.

Labor's Sunday.

It is the opinion of a highly respected contemporary that laboring men and women as a class are not in favor of laws requiring that Sunday be so relaxed as to permit sports and games. We doubt this statement.

Laboring men and women have neither the leisure nor the means to devote to week-day pleasures.

The hand of necessity is on their shoulders. But for one day in seven, if they are not too deadly tired from the excess of the week's work, they may go out and see or participate in popular sports and games. And we believe they demand this privilege.

Any other day for them is impossible. Hence they demand the right to get out where they can move and breathe and laugh and rejoice, even as do people of leisure.

Our contemporary asserts that laboring people desire chiefly quiet. Quiet is not the best word. What laboring people chiefly desire is rest, and they don't desire to go into hot, stuffy rooms in order to chase it down to capture it.

The laborer with the clean heart demands for himself the right to walk, to swim, to snuff the breeze of the river, to go to the ball game, to visit the parks or the picture shows, to enjoy the summer theatre or the family picnic.

Certainly laboring people are on the side of a well-observed Sabbath, but that fact doesn't necessarily mean that they prefer to sit down to read "The Lives of the Saints" or "Foxe's Book of Martyrs." They know that they can observe the Sabbath splendidly and religiously by filling their lungs with fresh air and their souls with the joy of out of doors. They know that by so doing they will find rest for both mind and body.

Mail Your Letters Early

There is a hint from an efficiency engineer who made a survey of the forwarding of mail that we all can adopt and put into practice. It is that of posting our letters as soon after they are written as it is possible.

His investigations showed that, in business houses especially, mail was allowed to accumulate and wait upon the convenience of a messenger or was sent to the postoffice by a volunteer during the luncheon hour or at the end of the business day.

As a result there was created in every postoffice several peakload periods during which all members of the staff were rushed to overcome the glut and restore the normal. One of the consequences found in every large city was that letters which normally should have gone forward on an evening train were held over until later in the night or until the next morning because they were not deposited until just before the dinner hour.

If care is taken to get the letters into the mail boxes at once after being sealed the postoffice force will work with greater precision and dispatch and the expense to the public will be cheaper because fewer hands will be needed. The direct reward of this practice is better service to the patron of the postoffice. So simple is the plan recommended and so inexpensive that it should receive universal approval and be put into general practice.

MT. STERLING UNDER HEEL OF THE "ICE OPPRESSER."

(Mt. Sterling Sentinel-Democrat) We are informed the Kentucky Utilities Company has again boosted the price of ice. For some months past the price has been steadily increased until it has now reached the place where our Mayor and City Council should no longer ignore it.

In two years the price has increased almost one hundred per cent. We are not familiar with the terms of the franchise under which it operates, but surely there is a limit it can charge and the public should be given some protection. If relief cannot be had in any other way, we favor the plan now being pursued at Paris, where the citizens are organizing a local company and preparing to build an ice plant of their own.

It was just like this careless country to be caught with a rainy summer and without ducks.

BIG CONSOLIDATION OF MOVIES PROMOTERS.

Manager Clarence Sprake, of the Paris Grand and the Alamo Theatre, was notified yesterday that Lee Shubert and Al. H. Woods, the two largest theatrical producers in the world, have entered the movie field.

Shubert and Woods are now members of the Goldwyn Board of Directors. Goldwyn thus obtains the movie rights to the greatest successes produced on the stage by the Shubert, Woods and Selwyn companies. It also has exclusive contracts for the books of Rex Beach, Gertrude Atherton, Rupert Hughes, Mary Roberts Rinehart, Gouvernor Morris Basil King and Leroy Scott.

Goldwyn's capitalization will be increased from $3,000,000 to $20,000,000. The concern has purchased the former Triangle studio at Culver City, Cal., the largest in the world, for $1,000,000, and is to erect a second studio near New York. A mammoth national newspaper, magazine and bill-board advertising campaign is projected.

New officers of Goldwyn are Samuel Goldwyn, President; F. J. Godsol, Chairman Executive Committee; Vice-Presidents, F. J. Godsol, Moritz Hilder, Lee Shubert, Edgar Selwyn, Abraham Lehr; Treasurer, P. W. Heberman; Secretary, Gabriel L. Hess; Directors, Samuel Goldwyn, F. J. Godsol, Maritz Hilder, Lee Shubert, A. H. Woods, Edgar Selwyn, Henry Itleson, Jacob Hilder, Harmon August, P. W. Haberman and Gabriel Hess.

The Shubert interests control more than half the leading theatres in the United States, while Al Woods has grouped around him the greater part of the producing playwrights and also owns the exclusive rights to the most important modern English and French productions.

Goldwyn has under contract the following stars: Geraldine Farrar, Pauline Frederick, Mable Normand, Madge Kennedy, Tom Moore and Will Rogers.

FIVE DAYS TO DELIVER LETTER TWO CITY BLOCKS.

"Return in five days" means absolutely nothing in the lives of some people.

It took 938 days for one letter to make a trip of two city blocks and 561 for another. The day after war was declared on Germany, April 7, 1917, Colonel J. J. Sullivan, then President of the Superior Savings and Trust Company, of Cleveland, O., wrote a letter to John Krishbaum, 1405 West Ninth street, Cleveland. On January 9, 1918, he wrote another to the same address.

Several days ago both letters were returned unopened and bearing notation on the envelope: "Not at— and Returned to writer."

This had happened since the letters were mailed. Postage rate increased and Colonel Sullivan's title changed from president of the bank to chairman of the board.

VISIT GROWERS WEEKLY.

An effort is being made by the Experiment Station to learn just what it costs to grow a crop of tobacco. This season a specially trained man is visiting each week about 80 farmers who are growing a crop of Burley in Fayette and Scott counties. Both the expert and the grower are keeping books on the cost of the crop. Another man is doing the same work in Christian county with about 70 farmers growing dark tobacco. By the end of the present season these men will have data which will be of tremendous value to growers of the world in Kentucky.

MY HEAD!

When the head feels thick or aches, when one feels all out-of-sorts—perhaps a coated tongue—it is the signal that poisons are accumulating in the system, and should be cleaned out at once.

Auto-intoxication can be best ascribed to our own neglect or carelessness. When the organs fail in the discharge of their duties, the putrefactive germs set in and generate toxins—actual poisons, which fill one's own body.

Sleepiness after meals, flushing of the face, extreme lassitude, bilioussness, dizziness, sick headache, acidity of the stomach, heartburn, offensive breath, anemia, loss of weight and muscular power, decrease of vitality or lowering of resistance to infectious diseases, disturbance of the eye, dyspepsia, indigestion, gastritis, many forms of catarrh, asthma, ear affections and allied ailments result from auto-intoxication or self-poisoning.

Take castor oil, or procure at the drug store, a pleasant vegetable laxative, called Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, composed of May-apple, aloes and jalap.

NATIONAL THRIFT CAMPAIGN; WHAT CAN WE DO WITHOUT?

When the Savings Division of the Treasury Department appointed Dr. J. Stanley Brown, of Joliet, Illinois, in charge of the thrift campaign in the schools, organizations throughout the country began to formulate independent campaigns through other channels.

In Chicago, a Do-Without Club of national scope has been formed to further the savings habit, and is furnishing free membership buttons and pledges to those in any part of the country who wish to join and save money for some definite purpose, and who send stamped addressed envelopes to headquarters, 634-635, 410 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago, for return literature. There are no members dues and no expense to members.

Mrs. Roy Dickey, former editor of one of the national magazines, organized the Do-Without Club during the war as part of her work in connection with the Women's Committee Council of National Defense.

"We should not lose the spirit either of saving or giving which the war encouraged," says Mrs. Dickey. "Dr. J. Stanley Brown says that everybody who 'sufficiently desires' can put away some part of every income. The Do-Without Club preaches systematic saving for the future good of the individual and a considered use of the pennies, dimes or dollars we expect to give to church, Sunday school, home charities, or other worthy objects. We believe the American public needs to learn to think about saving and think about proper methods of giving."

JOHN FOX'S READY WIT.

Writing in the New York Herald, O. O. McIntyre tells this incident of the ready wit displayed by the late John Fox, Jr.:

"The passing of John Fox, Jr., was a distinct loss to the New York writing fraternity. He was a novelist who always tried to boost his brothers in the profession. A great deal of his time was spent here in the winter. One of his closest friends was Charles Dana Gibson, the artist. He was a great afterdinner speaker. The last time I saw him was at a dinner at the Salmagundi Club on lower Fifth avenue. He was at the same table and Frank Casey, of Collier's told of hearing that a well-known writer on how to do certain things and still be happy was going to write a book to be called 'Love and Be Chaste.'

"How does he spell the last word?" asked Mr. Fox quickly.

COUNTY COURT HAPPENINGS

In Judge Batterton's court Charles Boutek, young man dressed in the uniform of a United States soldier, was presented, charged with taking a purse belonging to Fletcher Hall, of Paris, which, it was said, contained a sum of money and a check for $15. It was alleged that Boutek has forged the name of Mr. Hall to the check as an endorsement and had it cashed at a local store. Judge Batterton, after hearing the case, held Boutek in the sum of $200 to answer to the charge before the grand jury at the next term of the Bourbon Circuit Court.

Emma Doyle, colored, who was arrested by Patrolman Lusk last week, after a long chase up High street, charged with forging the name of Mr. Walker Buckner, of the county, to a check for $10, which she endeavored to have cashed, was served with another warrant Tuesday, charged with a like offense in forging the name of Mr. Thomas Buckner to a check, which she succeeded in passing on a local dry goods firm. In Judge Batterton's court she was held in the sum of $100 in each case to appear before the grand jury at the next term of the Bourbon Circuit Court and answer to the charge.

NEWS NOTES REGARDING THE ICE SHORTAGE

The following resolution was adopted by the Winchester Council:

"Be it Resolved, That the City of Winchester stop the payment to the said Light and Ice Company, now operating in the name of the Kentucky Utilities Company, for city lights until the said company complies with this provision of its contract in furnishing ice, in accordance with its terms, and maintains a suitable plant with the proper capacity therefor."

Maysville has been face to face with the most serious situation the city has known in years in that there is no city water available and no ice being distributed to the public. When the one pump which was working at the pumping station broke down, the reservoir ran dry and the city was out of water either for fire protection or for use in the homes. The situation was so serious that Mayor Russell called a night meeting of the City Council after ten o'clock and placed the situation before them. The Mayor recommended the taking over by the city of the water works, but no action was taken on this matter.

STORY OF MASONIC HONORS PAID
CAPT. REUBEN HUTCHCRAFT

(Robert S. Porter, in Lexington Leader)

In all probability Captain Reuben Brent Hutchcraft, of Paris, who gave up his life in France in the heroic discharge of his duties, was the only United States soldier buried in France with Masonic honors.

Captain J. A. Orr, of Paris, who recently returned from France and was mustered out of the service a few weeks ago at Camp Zachary Taylor, in an interview tells of the manner in which he learned of Captain Hutchcraft's death while in Paris, and the means he took to hold Masonic services over the body as it was laid to rest in the National Cemetery at Beaumont.

Captain Orr, who before enlisting in the service was a well-known physician of Paris, and who since his honorable discharge has again taken up the practice of his profession here, says:

"I first heard of the death of Captain Hutchcraft through General Roger Williams, of Lexington, whom I met in Paris, and who was in charge of one of the departments of the American Red Cross. General Williams knew nothing of the particulars of his death, or where he was buried, save that it was in the Department of the Argonne, which in France corresponds to one in the States of this country. Captain Hutchcraft was Junior Warden of Paris Lodge No. 2, of Paris, Ky., of which I had at the time the honor to be Master, and I deemed it my duty to his memory as a brother Mason, to secure what information I could regarding his death that I might be able on my return to impart it to his grief-stricken parents.

"I immediately set to work to ascertain the location of the grave, that I might visit it and have a photograph made. I wrote to the Chaplain of the 166th Infantry for information; every officer I met wearing the insignia of the Rainbow Division I interviewed on the subject. Finally my efforts were rewarded by meeting a number of officers of Captain Hutchcraft's organization, and from them I gained the information I was seeking.

"I found that he was killed above Chenoa, before Sedan; that his body was not recovered until that night after darkness had fallen; that immediately following his death his company was relieved from duty and replaced by a French company, members of which recovered the body. It was brought to the rear and buried in the little church yard at La Neuville a Maire, Department of Ardennes, France. The body was buried with military honors, the religious services being conducted by the Chaplain of his organization, a number of officers being present.

"Later I learned that the government was collecting bodies and assembling them for re-interment in the National Cemetery. I went to Romagne, in the center of the Argonne. Here was located the largest American cemetery, where most of bodies of those who had fallen in the battle of the Argonne were being collected and buried. I received the information that Captain Hutchcraft's body would be taken to Beaumont Cemetery for interment. I gathered together ten officials from my camp, who were Masons, and early next morning we started for Beaumont, which was one hundred miles distant from our camp. Lieut. J. W. Waller, of Paris, Ky., who was not a member of the Masonic order, accompanied us.

"Arriving at Beaumont we secured some white muslin and had an aged French woman to make us some aprons. Proceeding to the cemetery we went to the grave where the remains of my countryman and fraternal brother had already arrived, and when it had been tenderly lowered into the grave, we conducted the Masonic services for the dead.

"As a Mason, those services were most impressive to me. Before me lay the body of him whom only a few months before in our home town of Paris I had listened to in the lodge room, delivering what proved to be his farewell address to those he loved so well, in which he said that he was going across to do his whole duty, and that it might be that would be the last time he would ever address the brothers of his lodge.

"Slain by a treacherous foe, his body was buried where it had fallen, and a sprig of acacia, in the shape of a cross, placed at the head of his grave to mark the last spot until it could be removed to another place for more decent interment.

"And to think that I, the Master of his lodge from far across the seas, assisted by those close to him through that bond of affection which binds all Masons, should have the sacred privilege of performing the last sad rites as we consigned his body to the dust from whence it came was very touching."

The following communication will be spread upon the minutes of Paris Lodge:

"To the Wardens and Brethren of Paris Lodge No. 2, F. & A. M., Paris, Kentucky:

"We, the undersigned Master Masons, on this date, have held a Masonic burial service over the grave of Capt. R. B. Hutchcraft, Jr., 166th Infantry, of Paris Lodge No. 2, lo-

CARPENTERS HURT IN TWENTY-EIGHT FOOT FALL

John Sharp and Riley Maddox, both well-known Bourbon county carpenters, narrowly escaped serious injury Tuesday morning shortly before ten o'clock, when the scaffold on which they were working collapsed, precipitating them to the ground below, a distance of twenty-eight feet. The accident occurred on the farm of Harp brothers, between Muir and Hutchison, on the Paris Pike.

The men were finishing a gable end of a barn and had failed to make the scaffold secure. Harp fell on his left shoulder and is thought to have a fractured rib. Maddox fell on his hip and was less seriously injured than Harp. Both men were taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, in Lexington, where an examination revealed more serious injuries than was at first thought.

LIGHTNING DESTROYS BARN

During an electrical and rain storm which prevailed over Bourbon county Tuesday afternoon a big tobacco barn on the farm of Mr. Virgil Gaitskill, near Austerlitz, was struck by lightning. The barn and its contents were entirely destroyed by the resulting blaze. The barn was stored with a large quantity of baled hay and farm machinery, and a large quantity of feed. Two valuable saddle mares in the barn could not be rescued and were cremated in the flames. Mr. Gaitskill and others succeeded in rescuing a number of horses and mules from the burning barn. Flames communicated to a big double corn crib adjacent to the barn, also destroying it and its contents.

Mr. Gaitskill estimates his loss at $10,000. He had $1,500 insurance on the barn, but none on the contents.

IN THE SERVICE OF THEIR COUNTRY.

Lord Fauntleroy Lafayette, a negro, giving Centerville, Bourbon county, as his home, signed up Tuesday at the Lexington recruiting station for three years' service in the infantry branch of the U. S. Army.

Fifty-four Kentucky boys, wounded in France, and returned to the United States as casualties, are now in army hospitals at ports of debarkation. Of the number reported, one is from Millersburg, Rufus Johnson, who is in the Base Hospital at Camp Merritt, in New Jersey.

Word has been received here that Arthur L. Ogden, of Paris, has arrived at an Eastern camp from overseas service. Ogden was a member of the Fifty-first Infantry, and was in France for more than a year. He was formerly a student at Transylvania College, in Lexington.

Sergt. Jesse J. Harris, after eleven months service overseas, has received an honorable discharge from the army and has returned to Paris.

Sergt. Harris is a son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Harris, of Walker avenue. He has been in the service twenty months altogether, eleven of which were spent in France and Belgium.

Roger Thompson, Jr., formerly of Paris, but recently returned from overseas, has arrived here as a guest of his great-aunt, Mrs. John T. Hinton. He is en route from Hendersonville, N. C., where he visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Q. Thompson, to St. Louis. He will resume his former position in St. Louis.

Mrs. Lon Graves, of Paris, received a message informing her of the arrival at New York of her nephew, Corp. Jesse O'Banion, of the First Division of the U. S. Army. He has been in the service five years, three in France and Germany. He will arrive here in a few days on a furlough visit to relatives.

Eighteen men have been accepted for enlistment in the Eighty-third Field Artillery during the time a detachment of that organization has been on recruiting duty in Lexington. These men will complete the recruiting trip with the detachment through Northern Kentucky and Southern Indiana. One of the men is Steve McFralley, of North Middle-town.

HANCOCK BUYS JIM GAFFNEY.

At Saratoga, New York, A. B. Hancock, of Paris, concluded the transfer of the well-known sire, Jim Gaffney, for a high figure, and the horse will hereafter do stud duty at Claiborne Farm, near this city, owned by Mr. Hancock. Since the sale of Sennings Park, Jim Gaffney has been much in the eye of breeders, and O. A. Bianchi, his owner, on arrival was made many tempting offers, culminating with the sale of the horse. Jim Gaffney during his brief stud career has been exceptionally successful, and among other noted ones he has sired are the well-known stake winners, Sennings Park, Dodge, Franklin, Emerson Cochran, War Pennant, Viola Franklin, Sedan, Berlin and others.

SMALL BOYS OUT SEEING THE WORLD.

Five small boys, the oldest not over ten years, were rounded up here Tuesday night by Chief of Police Link, and returned to their homes in Winchester, which they had left by way of freight train on a proposed tour of the world.

Going into an uptown restaurant Chief Link noticed a little fellow, whose eyes barely reached the level of the counter, inquiring the price of "a whole lot of weenies." He questioned the boy, who broke down, and sobbing, told how he and four others had concealed themselves in an empty L & N. box car at Winchester, and started out to see the world. Their earthly possessions consisted of $1.40, and they had decided to invest the entire amount in "weenies."

These rates were made while the companies were under Government control. The Commission in its order, said that the increased rates are subject to attack by complaint of citizens at any time. The schedules were put into effect in April.

Placing the youngster in his auto Chief Link rounded up the other boys, who declared themselves as be-

LABOR LEADERS DEMAND CON- TROL OF RAILWAYS.

WASHINGTON, August 5.—Organized labor came out Monday with the unequivocal, formal demand that private capital be retired from the railroads.

A tripartite control, composed of the public, the operating management and the employees, is demanded instead.

Addressed to the American public and signed by the engineers, the firemen, the conductors and the American Federation of Labor, a formal statement was issued announcing this proposal, which will be carried before Congress Wednesday.

"It marks," says the statement, "the step by which organized labor passes from demands for wage increases to demands that the system of profits in industry be overhauled."

This sentence sums up in a few words the proposal, of which there have been hints and indications, but which now is laid before the country for the first time.

Everywhere in official Washington it is recognized as being the most serious and far-reaching proposition the country will be called upon to face.

Characterizing the proposal as "labor's bill," it is put forth to be a remedy for the high cost of living, because, it is said, the railroads are the "key industry" of the nation.

It demands the "genuine co-operation and partnership based on a real community of interest and participation in control," of which President Wilson spoke to Congress, and which, the statement says, has been ignored by labor and the private owners of the railroads.

"We ask," it says, "that the railroads of the United States be vested in the public; that those actually engaged in conducting that industry, not from Wall Street, but from the railroad offices and yard and out on the railroad lines, shall take charge of this service for the public."

Briefly, labor's plan demands:

That private capital be eliminated front the railroads.

That the private owners receive for them Government bonds "with a fixed interest return for every honest dollar that they have invested."

That the tripartite control, heretofore referred to, be established in corporations which shall lease the roads and in which the public, the operating managements and labor shall be represented equally.

That the public, the operators and the wage earners share equally all revenue in excess of the guaranteed to private capital, by granting to the operators and the employees one half the savings which are expected to be made by such a perfected organization and to the public the other half as consumers, either by increasing service without adding costs or by reducing costs.

"This role originates with labor," says the statement, "because labor happens to have firm organizations through which it may become articulate."

The trainmen are not represented in the statement, as W. G. Lee, President of the brotherhood, was out of the city, but it was said that he would join in it.

The statement follows: "The nuances in telegraphed dispatches from Washington, appearing also in the speech of Representative Thomas L. Blanton, of Texas, that the railroad unions are holding up Congress and the Government, may as well cease. This appeal is made to the American direct. It involves the judgment and common sense of public sentiment, of all the public which earns a wage or a stipend.

"We recognize that the only way in which we can exist under the present system is to demand further increases in wages, but we agree with Representative Blanton that this affords but temporary relief. It does not offer a remedy.

"Labor's bill, on the other hand provides a remedy, and we ask that terms be scrutinized. Our full agreement in support of these terms will be presented Wednesday before the House Committee on Interstate Commerce. In this statement we are sounding the note of our basic principle.

"That this role originates with labor merely is because labor happens to have firm organizations

THESE WEATHER DOPESTERS PREDICT COLD WINTER.

"There'll be a cold snap in October, and right after Thanksgiving a severe winter will set in," said Jerry McGuire, all-the-year-round lake cottage dweller, at St. Paul, Minnesota, "but there'll be an early spring and cool summer. Nope, I ain't got no special reason for thinkin' so 'cept general appearances. The birds, trees, grass—just everything outside kind o' gives me an idee."

"Yassuh," said white-haired, black-skinned George Washington Jones, at Indianapolis, "yassuh, the hot weather that ripened these muskmelons sho' nuff will bring a cold winter. Jes' take a look at them thah seeds." He couldn't explain, but he said he knew what he was talking about.

No need to worry about the high price of coal this winter. The gradual disappearance of spots on the sun is a sure indication of an unusually mild winter, according to Chris Spaeth, superintendent of bridges at Milwaukee, Wis. The same sign indicates the hottest August on record.

AN OLD FAULT FINDER.

An irritable and fault finding disposition is often caused by indigestion. A man with good digestion and bowels that act regularly is usually good natured. When troubled with indigestion or constipation take Chamberlain's Tablets. They strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. They also cause a gentle movement of the bowels.

through which it may become articulate. It is not to benefit labor as labor alone; it is to benefit the consuming public, of which labor at present is the audible part.

"It labor's bill providing that the public take over the railroads and establish a tripartite control between the public the railway operating management and the employees, the labor organizations of America have established this new policy, which envisages their condition not only as producers, but also as consumers.

"It marks the step by which organized labor passes from demands for wage increases to demands that the system of profits in industry be overhauled. Hitherto, during successive wage negotiations and arbitration awards, we have called for provisional settlements only of questions arising out of differences as to wages, hours and conditions of labor.

"That principle of 'genuine co-operation and partnership, based upon a real community of interest and participation in control,' of which President Wilson has spoken in Congress, has been ignored both by labor and by the private owners of the railroads.

"What wage increases have been received during the past few years resulted only in immediately being followed by more than proportionate increases in the cost of living. Each raise in wages has turned out to mean only temporary relief for the affected workers. When the increases have gone around the circle labor as producer loses the advantage of the new wages through the additional cost it pays as consumer.

"Moreover, through compounded profits taken on these wage increases each cycle becomes an upward spiral of costs which the consuming public vainly reaches to control.

"As the major part of the consuming public, labor is entitled to representation on the Directors of the public railroads. As a producer of capital, which is the fruit of yesterday's labor, we now propose to discharge every obligation.

"We demand that the owners of capital, who represent only financial interest as distinguished from operating brains and money, be retired from management, receiving Government bonds with a fixed interest return for every honest dollar that they have invested in the railway industry.

"We ask that the railroads of the United States be vested in the public; that those actually engaged in conducting that industry, not from Wall Street, but from the railroad offices and yards and out on the railroad lines shall take charge of this service for the public.

"These represent all the brains, skill and energy that is in the business. They are entitled to that measure of control which is equal to their ability and their responsibility for operating the transportation properties.

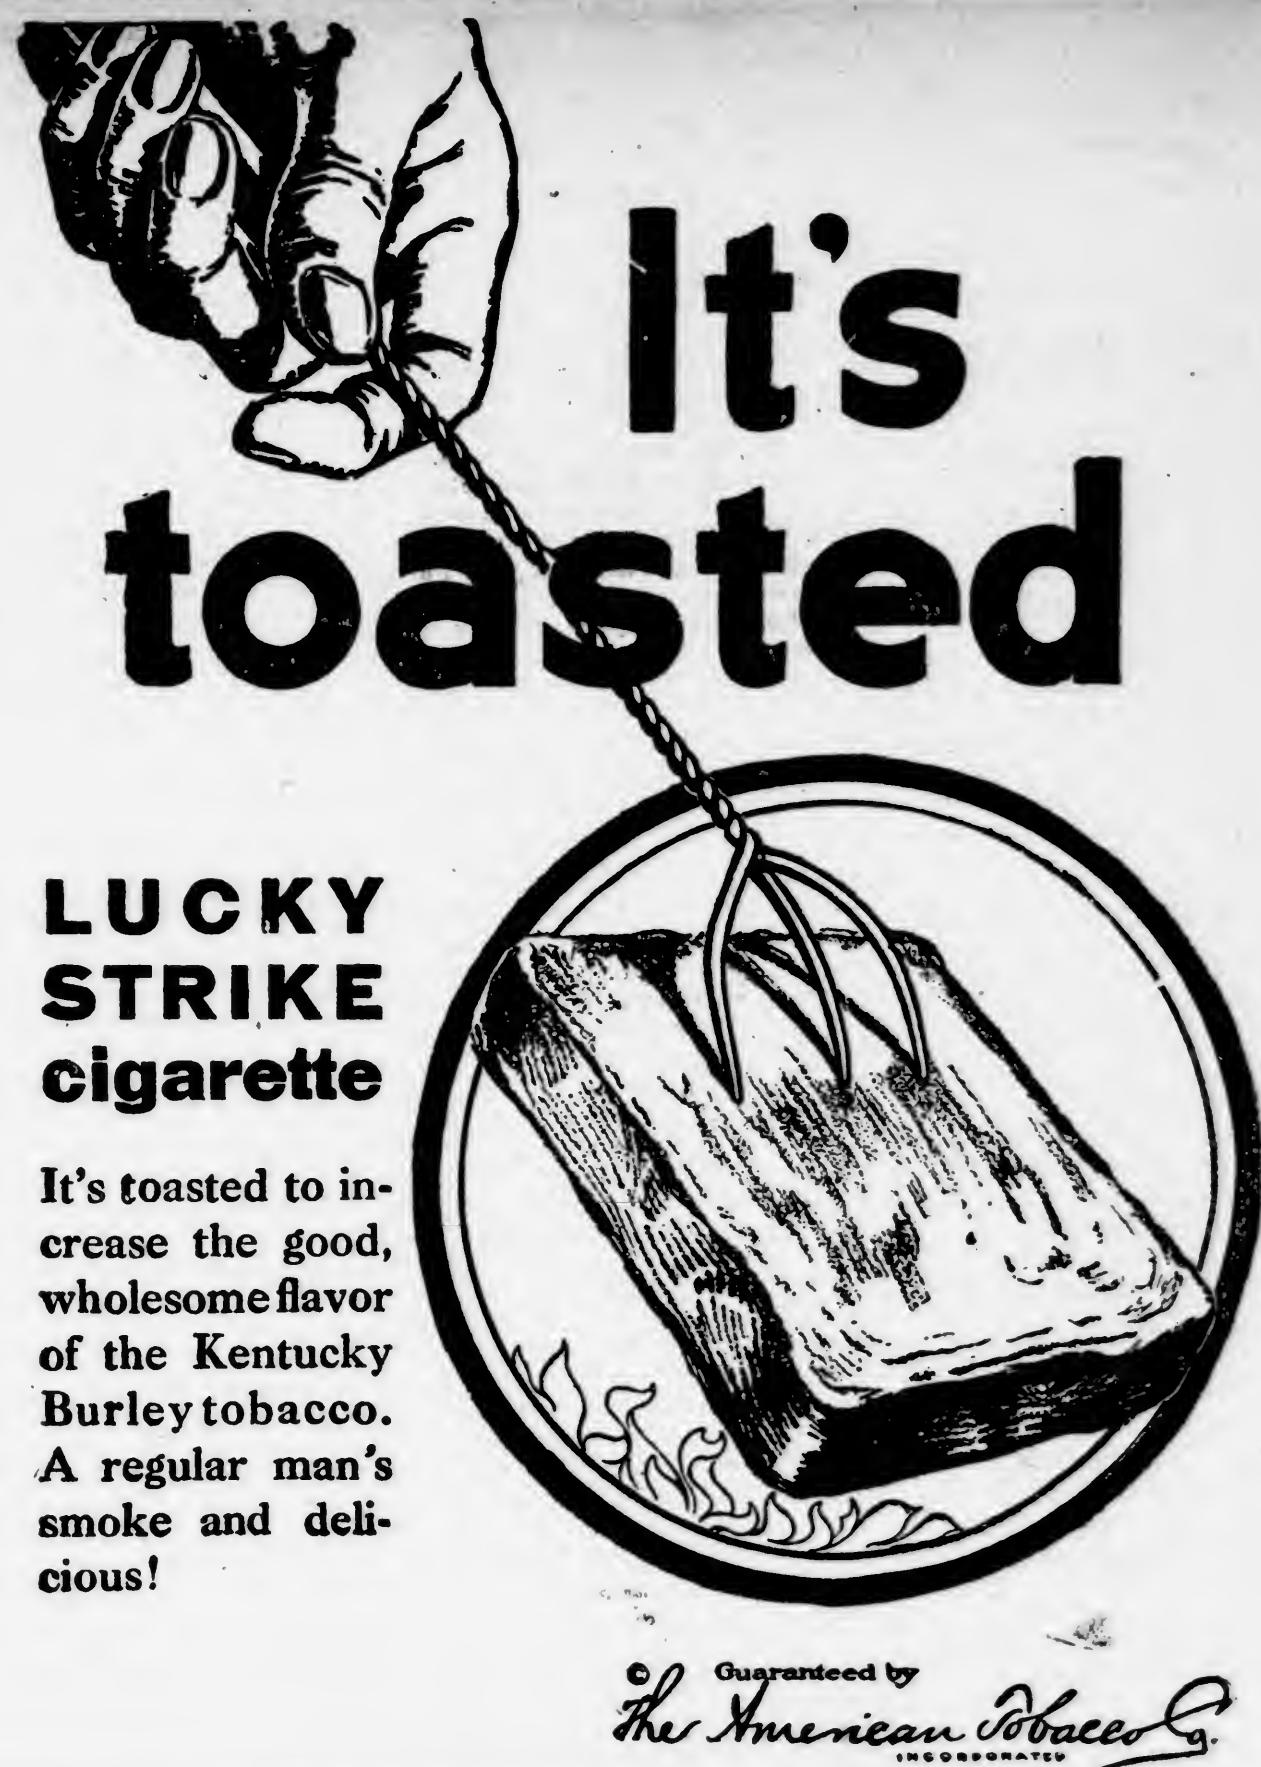

"Then, and then only, will the service be primarily for the public, not primarily for profits to speculators and inflators of capital. As a means for accomplishing this end, we ask that a lease be granted to a corporation created, not for profit, but for public service.

"We ask that this corporation be controlled in its management by an equal representation of the three fundamental interests upon which industry is based. The public, operating managers and wage earners will then guarantee both the integrity of the investment required for the conduct of the industry and that return which induces it, by investing, to enter the public service.

"The public as consumers and the operating managers and wage earners as producers having joined in that guarantee, then will share equally all earnings in excess of the amounts required to meet the guarantee.

"This is provided by granting to the wage earners and management one half of the savings which they through their perfected organizations can make, and by securing to the public the other half, to be enjoyed by the consumers, either by increasing the means for service without increasing fixed charges or by reducing the cost of the service which the machinery then in existence can render.

"Thus the cost of transportation is automatically reduced exactly in

The Flavor Lasts!

SPENT FORTY-SEVEN YEARS AS ASYLUM INMATE.

John J. Key, about 70 years old, for the last forty-seven years an inmate of the Eastern State Hospital in Lexington, was buried in his family lot in the Maysville Cemetery last week. He died at the hospital, in which he had spent the greater part of his life, following a long illness from pellagra.

According to a tradition at the State Hospital, Key, when in his early twenties, entered the parlor of his father's home on the Lexington pike, near Maysville, and shot and killed his father and Moses Givens. Immediately after the double tragedy Key went to Maysville and surrendered to the authorities.

A long court fight followed and after several years of litigation, Key was adjudged insane and brought to the Eastern State Hospital. That was in 1872, and he had been there ever since.

For many years Key had been a trusty patient at the hospital and had proved very useful around the grounds. For a while he had charge of the stables and poultry yards. During his confinement, Key has been subject to many strange illusions, it was stated at the hospital. He was a veteran of the Civil War, and drew a pension from the government.

Although he spent 47 years within the confines of the hospital grounds, Key was not the oldest patient. Catherine Redmon, of Franklin county, has had no sight of the outside world since 1858, when, as a young woman, she was sent to the hospital.

During her confinement the world has advanced and developed, but she has never seen a motion picture show or ridden in an automobile, talked over a telephone or had any of the commonplace experiences of the present day. Since she came to the hospital, her family have all died until now she is without a relative in the world, with no acquaintances or friends outside her ward.

Just between ourselves, you never will wise-up to high-spot-smoke-joy until you can call a pipe by its first name, then, to hit the peak-of-pleasure you land square on that two-fisted-man-tobacco, Prince Albert!

Well, sir, you'll be so all-fired happy you'll want to get a photograph of yourself breezing up the pike with your smokethrottle wide open! Talk about smoke-sport!

Quality makes Prince Albert so

You buy Prince Albert everywhere tobacco is sold. Toppy red bags, tidy red lined handbag pockets and half peacock humidor—and that classic, practical bound crystal glass humidor with sponge moistener top that keeps the tobacco in such perfect condition.

BOURBON FARMING CONDITIONS.

The farming situation in Bourbon county does not present the promising outlook it did a few weeks ago. The continued dry weather is playing havoc with the crops. There has been no rainfall of any consequence for a long time. Grass pastures are drying up, affording but scanty grazing, and the early corn has suffered as much if not more than any other crop.

The tobacco presents a very poor prospect, and is the most uneven crop grown in many years. A few crops are almost ready to top, but they are very scarce. Some of the crops that were set very early are being cut and housed, while others are not yet above the cloids.

A GREAT REMEDY.

The merits of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy are well known and appreciated, but there is occasionally a man who had no acquaintance with them and should read the following by F. H. Dear, a hotel man at Dupuyer, Mont. "Four years ago I used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy with such wonderful results that I have since recommended it to my friends."

Two hundred thousand silver buttons have been manufactured for distribution to men wounded in the war. Approximately 500,000 bronze buttons for men who served abroad, but who were not wounded, have already been manufactured. Manufacture of the bronze buttons will be continued at the rate of 250,000 a week until all the demands are supplied. These buttons can be obtained at the various army posts, recruiting stations and zone supply offices upon presentation of honorable discharge. The War Department is now negotiating contracts for the victory ribbon and stars and bars to be issued to those who served in world war engagements and those who receiving citations for valor. Approximately 507,000 yards of this ribbon will be manufactured at the rate of 15,000 yards a week.

TAYLOR.

—One by one the veterans of the Civil War are yielding to the stern decree of death, and are surrendering to the mightiest conqueror of all. This thought was brought out by the news that reached here yesterday of the death of Capt. Ed. Taylor, a former resident of Paris, and a well-known Confederate veteran, which occurred at the Confederate Home at Pewee Valley, Wednesday night, following an illness of two years.

Capt. Taylor during his residence in Paris, conducted a dry goods store on the corner of Main and Third streets, the site of which is at present occupied by the A. F. Wheeler Furniture Co. His wife preceded him to the grave many years ago. Capt. Taylor at the outbreak of the Civil War, embraced the cause of the Confederacy, and enlisted in Company C, of the Ninth Kentucky Cavalry, under General John H. Morgan, and followed the fortunes of that great raider through the varying fortunes of war. He served with distinction and gallantry, and rose to the rank of Captain in the service, which in honoring him was itself honored. He was a man of culture and intellectual attainments and had a host of friends here who regret to learn of his passing away. After leaving the army Capt. Taylor again embarked in business in this city, and in later years was a traveling man for a large Eastern wholesale house. Of late years he has been a guest at the Confederate Home, with comrades of former days, where his declining years were spent in the peacefulness of a ripe old age. For many years he was a prominent figure at all the Confederate reunions and was highly esteemed by all who knew him.

Capt. Taylor is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Carrie Taylor Chase, of Danville, and two sons, Ira G. G. Taylor and Edward Taylor, Jr., both of Lexington.

The body was brought to the home of his grandson, Mr. Hubert Chase, in Lexington, where the funeral will be held at ten o'clock this (Friday) morning, with services conducted by Rev. E. T. Edmonds, pastor of the Woodland Avenue Christian church. The body will be brought to this city for interment on the family lot in the Paris Cemetery beside that of his wife. The pall-bearers will be A. W. Macklin, G. S. Byrns, J. E. Keller, C. F. Estell, R. M. Redd and Jacob Sandusky. Members of the John C. Breckinridge Camp, United Confederate Veterans, of Lexington, of which Capt. Taylor was a member, will accompany the body as a guard of honor.

Bradley is married and has one child. A telephone message from Lexington stated that no trace of the missing man had been found. He is described as being about six feet, two inches in height, of slender build, weighing about 140 pounds, has blue eyes and brown hair.
